Perfection in every detail

Exclusivity and privacy are the defining characteristics of the Carlton Hotel St. Moritz, which opens for the winter season from mid of December to beginning of April. This luxury five-star establishment beguiles the senses with its extravagant world of colours, its culinary creations of the highest standard, and its unrivalled generosity. The 60 junior suites and suites, designed by Swiss interior designer Carlo Rampazzi using the finest materials, offer the highest levels of comfort with plenty of light and space. Furthermore, all suites are south facing with a breath-taking view over the Lake of St. Moritz and the surrounding mountains. Culinary excellence is celebrated in both restaurants, the Romanoff and Da Vittorio – St. Moritz, for an authentic and informal fine dining experience. For a light lunch or afternoon tea, the spacious sun terrace – undoubtedly the resort’s finest – is the place to be. The 1,200 sqm Carlton Spa also offers countless opportunities to withdraw, relax and unwind.

A myriad of details convey the sense that the Carlton Hotel, built in 1913, is shaped by its landmark historic character. The complete refurbishment undertaken in 2007 not only preserved the exterior of the hotel, but also brought the historical values to the fore, adding a modern, contemporary re-interpretation that combines the new with the traditional. The stately stairway, decorative stuccowork along the ceilings of the ballroom and historical stone walls in various places throughout the building are a constant reminder of the glory days of the early 20th century. For the interiors, Swiss designer Carlo Rampazzi has combined antique furniture with vibrant modern colour schemes, which gives the hotel its distinctive unconventional character.

Many existing pieces of furniture were restored and re-upholstered with new fabrics and paintwork. The mix of materials such as glass, wood and fabric blends harmoniously to create an overall impression that constantly surprises as a result of the Ticino designer’s meticulous attention to detail.

As a member of Tschuggen Hotel Group, the Carlton Hotel St. Moritz has been completely climate-neutral since 2019. Together with the Swiss organisation myclimate, the CO2 emissions of the hotel group were calculated. Based on this, various measures were then introduced to minimise the ecological footprint. The measures are rounded off by the support of various climate protection projects that compensate for the unavoidable CO2 emissions.

The Suites
The 60 spaciously appointed junior suites and suites of the 5-star hotel start from 35 sqm and, alongside the exceptional diversity of colours, offer the highest standard of comfort and state-of-the-art technology. All the suites are south facing with views of Lake of St. Moritz, and most have balconies or terraces that offer heavenly vantage points for many local top events such as the Polo World Cup on Snow or the world-famous White Turf horse racing event. The Carlton Penthouse, the largest suite in St. Moritz, extends to 386 sqm with three spacious light-filled bedrooms, each of which has its own separate bathroom, a living and dining area with open fireplace, a fully equipped kitchen and five terraces boasting panoramic views over the valley. The public areas of the Carlton Hotel St. Moritz, such as the lobby with its two original fireplaces on the Bel Etage are also spaciously appointed, offering guests an array of different places to read, relax and savour the moment. Extending above the hotel’s main entrance is a large sun terrace, which can be accessed from the Bar and Lobby, opening up stunning panoramic views of the mountains and Lake of St. Moritz.

Culinary highlights
The kitchen teams of the two restaurants prepare culinary delights of the highest standards. At the restaurant Romanoff on the historic Bel Etage, Culinary Director Max Herzog offers fine authentic Swiss cuisine in elegant surroundings, while the excellent three-star Michelin chefs Enrico and Roberto Cerea at the restaurant Da Vittorio - St. Moritz serve authentic Italian cuisine at its best in a casual atmosphere, which takes you on a culinary journey to Lombardy. The Carlton Bar and Lobby with its large sun terrace is the perfect spot to relax and unwind – whether it be lunch with delicious specialties from the grill, a traditional afternoon tea or a glass of sparkling champagne in the evening.
Time out
The hotel’s spa facility extends over 1,200 sqm and three daylight flooded floors, and features six different treatment rooms where guests can enjoy a multitude of massages and beauty treatments while marvelling at the striking ceiling paintings. The 35 sqm Spa Suite with its own whirlpool, sauna and Dornbracht-Rainsky shower with light therapy as well as a TV, DVD player and HiFi system offers a wellness experience in complete privacy for several hours or even an entire day. Located on the lowermost floor is the spacious sauna area with steam bath, caldarium, Finnish sauna and a separate ladies’ sauna. To cool off after an invigorating sauna session, there is a whole range of different hydro-massage showers, an ice fountain, and a Kneipp trail in the snow. Besides the very latest in fitness equipment, the hotel also boasts a large swimming and sports pool, which was designed to boost physical fitness. The pool’s highlight feature is an interconnecting indoor and outdoor relaxation pool, which makes the perfect place to unwind in soothing temperatures.

As a guest at the Carlton Hotel St. Moritz
A stay at this gem in the St. Moritz crown offers more than a nice holiday experience with all the usual amenities. The exclusive number of suites allows the staff working with Hotel Manager Philippe D. Clarinval to attend to the individual needs of each guest, thereby guaranteeing their complete satisfaction. With their personable and professional approach, sincere commitment and competence in several languages, the hotel’s discreet staff helps to convey a familiar and intimate atmosphere. Embedded in this genuine hospitality the exclusive Boutique Hotel of the Tschuggen Hotel Group ushers its guests towards an entirely new experience of well-being, enjoyment and relaxation.

Further information: www.carlton-stmoritz.ch/en
High resolution image material: www.tschuggenhotelgroup.ch/en/press

July 2020